

interactive technologies

Cejka Search utilizes leading edge technologies designed to reach young physicians who are technologically oriented, as well as practicing physicians who are rapidly adopting new technology. All of Cejka Search's award-winning interactive marketing services are designed with mobility in mind – including the latest enhancements in mobile tablet compatibility.

We continue to build one of the industry's most extensive databases of physician e-mail addresses and create new channels for social media engagement at all levels of the health care industry.

Combining advances in interactive and social marketing with trusted sources for networking and accessing career opportunities, Cejka Search will power your brand and the unique benefits of your practice opportunity through an array of media channels.
